Forecast For Strathclyde
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Thursday 12 Aug 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Sunny start, blustery showers later, becoming windy.

Today:
A dry and bright start with sunny spells. A scattering of blustery showers developing in the afternoon, these turning heavier over Argyll later. Strengthening southerly winds. Maximum temperature 19 deg C (66 deg F).

Tonight:
Remaining windy overnight, especially for the Islands and west coasts. The frequent heavy blustery showers will make it feel more like Autumn than Summer, less showers inland. Minimum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Friday:
A very blustery day with frequent showers, some heavy, but moving through quickly on strong winds. A few brighter interludes but these not lasting too long. Maximum temperature 18 deg C (64 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Winds turning northerly on Saturday and still blustery with showers, feeling cooler. Winds easing later on Saturday with a brighter afternoon. Sunday and Monday mainly dry, some showers in north.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.